THE observance of the 250th Anniversary of the settlement of Providence has invited the early performance of what we had intended at some future time to do, viz:—to reproduce the first Directory of the “Town of Providence.”

This book was issued by Brown & Danforth in 1824, and in a note “To the Public,” found on the third page, they state their reasons for entering upon the work.

Providence at this time had a population estimated at 15,000, including a colored population of about 1,400. The Directory contains 2,958 names, exclusive of names of colored inhabitants, which did not appear in any Directory until 1832.

Following this first publication there were issued Directories in the following years, viz:—1826, 1828, 1830, 1832, 1836, 1838, 1841, 1844, 1847, 1850, 1852, and from that date the book became an annual.

In 1860 the Providence Directory came into the hands of the present publishers, then known as Adams, Sampson, & Co., and since then many and important features have been added to the work, among which are the following:—In 1864, a complete Rhode Island Business Directory; in 1869, a Rhode Island State Register; in 1870, a finely engraved copper-plate Map of Providence; in 1872, the improved Street Directory; in 1880, the recording of deaths and removals, and in 1886 the names of business and professional men, corporations, institutions, &c. in the State outside of Providence, ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED.

This brief history of the Providence Directory shows not only the purposes and achievements of the publishers, but also implies an appreciation and co-operation on the part of the public, which are most important aids to the growth and efficiency of a work of this kind.

Have you bought a HOWES' FILTER?

IF NOT, WHY NOT?

The leading citizens of the city are adopting them and discarding former kinds. Doctors, Lawyers, Chemists and Scientists all agree that on Sanitary grounds alone this filter must supersede all others. By their use you can obtain an abundant supply of clean water for domestic purposes. Those who realize the eternal fitness of cleanliness and wholesome living WILL buy them and thus put a barrier between themselves and many of the most insidious foes of their existence. Come and see us. Come to-day.

(Opp. Preface.)

TO THE PUBLIC.

It having been frequently suggested, that from the growth and increased population of the town of Providence, a DIRECTORY would be found very convenient, not only for strangers, but for the citizens of the town, the subscribers have been induced to undertake the publication of the same, trusting to the patronage of the public, for a remuneration, in which they confidently hope they shall not be disappointed, as they are free to confess, that with them, "the hope of reward sweetens labour."

It was their design, originally, to issue a Mercantile Directory only, to embrace the names of commercial men, and those transacting business on their own account; but on mature consideration, they determined to make it a full and complete Directory, similar to those published in our large cities, to contain the names of all white male inhabitants, over 21 years of age, their business, places of business, and places of residence; of all white females, heads of families, and also the places of location of the Banks, Insurance Offices, &c. and such other public Institutions as are most frequently enquired for. This will be found very convenient for strangers, and will enhance the value of the work.

Two events which have lately transpired, render a Directory more necessary at the present time, than it has ever heretofore been; one of which is, the appointment of a Committee, at the town-meetings in June and August last, for numbering the houses in the most important streets, and procuring signs for such streets as required them. This has been accomplished, in a manner we believe satisfactory, to our citizens, generally, under the direction of Mr. Edward R. Young, one of the gentlemen appointed for this purpose; and the great convenience of having the houses numbered, is so striking, that it is to be hoped that the good beginning which has been made, may be completed, by numbering the houses on such other streets, as may be thought to require it.

The other event to which we alluded, as rendering a

Directory more desirable at the present time, was the circumstance, that a new, elegant and accurate Map of the town has just been published, from an actual survey, by Mr. Daniel Anthony. This Map has been engraved by Mr. John S. Horton, and it is to be hoped the proprietor may receive a liberal support in this undertaking, and his map find a ready and extensive sale.

While we have endeavored to give a complete and correct list of the citizens, agreeably to the plan before mentioned, we are well aware of the difficulty of its accomplishment—and will only remark that if errors or omissions have occurred, they were undesigned, and will be cheerfully corrected, on being pointed out.

As the subscription for this work has been inconsiderable (but little pains having in fact been taken to obtain subscribers) and as its success may be considered in some measure doubtful, the publishers will only further observe, that it is a matter of uncertainty whether it will be published annually—as that must depend upon the support afforded; but should this edition be disposed of during the present year, they may probably issue another number, “enlarged and improved,” by the return of another new year.

BROWN & DANFORTH.

Providence, Jan. 1824.

Remark, by the Committee appointed by the Town, for numbering the houses, &c.

Some persons have objected to the alternate mode of numbering, as adopted by the Town's Committee, because the numbers do not in all cases answer to each other; that is to say, No. 20 may not be found directly opposite No. 21, or No. 100 directly opposite No. 101; but persons who wish to find a house by its number have only to recollect that all even numbers are confined to one side of the street, and all odd numbers to the opposite side: then if they have an even number to find, they will follow the numbers up on the side which has the even numbers, without having any regard to the numbers on the opposite side; so if they have an odd number to find, they will follow up the numbers on the side which has the odd numbers, paying no regard to the even numbers on the opposite side. This plan is believed to be the best which could be adopted, and is followed in all our large cities.

LIST OF NAMES OF STREETS, &c.

Referred to in this Directory,

N. B. Where streets are said to run to the river, it will be understood as the waters forming the harbour; where they run to the Cove, as the waters above Weybosset Bridge; and where streets run to the water, it alludes to Seekonk river.

☞ The letters which follow the names of each street, signify the bearing of such street, from the Market-House:—thus: Abbot street, W. is West from the Market-House. Although the bearings of the streets are not probably given with mathematical exactness, they will be found sufficiently accurate to answer the purpose intended.

NORTHWESTERN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE CO., MILWAUKEE, WIS.

The President, Hon. H. L. PALMER, is well known to the business men of this community, as is also the New England Trustee, Gen. SAM'L C. LAWRENCE. The Company was organized and commenced business in 1858; is purely mutual.

Since its organization the Company has paid to the representatives of deceased policy-holders for death losses,	$13,282,000 15
And to its living policy-holders for dividends, matured endowments, surrendered and lapsed policies,	23,490,836 98
Total,	$36,772,837 13

Add present assets,	24,265,256 56
-------------------------------	---------------

Amount paid to policy-holders and held for them,	$61,038,093 69
Total premiums received,	52,422,966 39

Excess of assets and payments to policy-holders over premium receipts,	$8,615,127 30
--	----------------

NO LOANS ARE MADE BY THE COMPANY ON STOCKS, COLLATERALS, or any kind of fluctuating or doubtful securities. THE INTEREST RECEIPTS of the Company since organization have exceeded its losses by death by more than five and a half millions of dollars.

It is the only Company which has, in recent years, printed tables of current cash dividends for the information of the public. The Northwestern has done this for many consecutive years, and in each of the past thirteen years they have been unequalled by those of any other company on similar policies.—Its policy contract is of the most liberal character consistent with safety, and after three years, all restrictions on occupation, residence and travel will cease.—It is the only company issuing Tontine or Semi-Tontines that will furnish during the Tontine period, a statement of the accumulated surplus.—The most thorough investigation is invited by

They shortly removed to the site now occupied by the Wilcox Building on Weybosset street, under the firm name of Eames & Root. In 1860 and 1861 they built the building corner of Westminster and Orange streets. Advancing age compelled Mr. Eames to retire from business, Mr. Root purchasing his interest. Mr. Root soon purchased the site of his present location and erected the building thereon, thus continuing the oldest established business in this line in Providence, where old friends and new are cordially welcomed.
